

Feminist Futures:

Exploring activism and the future of gender equality.

The Feminist Archive South (FAS) is one of the most significant collections of women's activist histories in the UK. Based at the University of Bristol, FAS documents international feminist movements through over 160m of diverse archive materials.

FAS is a registered charity that provides a range of educational workshops including:

- A Level History: the Personal is Political
- A Level Sociology: Gender Roles, Stereotypes and Socialisation
- A Level Art: Art and Activism
- A Level English Lit/Lang: Rewriting Herstory
- LGBT+ Feminist Movements (LGBT+ youth groups and PSHEE)

BENEFITS

- Promote equality and diversity in your school or college
- Address a lack of representation in the curriculum
- Develop best practice in the teaching of gender equality
- Create unique opportunities for original archival research into A Level topics

WHAT STUDENTS SAID:

'I loved the creative freedom we were given- we were able to use a lot of different materials, really enjoyed all the activities. I am so much more educated in feminism.'

'All of it was so interesting!'

'I enjoyed looking at old documents that we would not be able to see otherwise, seeing unseen perspectives from the time'

'I think it's really important to educate men and women in this'

WHAT TEACHERS SAID:

'The FAS workshops provided a fantastic bespoke learning experience for the A level history students at Weston College. The team at Feminist Archive South worked hard to select a range of source material that would encourage debate, promote empathy and increase understanding of the Women's Liberation Movement whilst developing critical source analysis skills needed to achieve success in the A level examinations.'
History teacher, Weston College

'The students loved the workshops. Very impressed with the outcomes, too.'
Head of Sixth Form, Sir John Colfox School

'The sessions were brilliant and I found I was able to discuss their content with the workshop leaders beforehand so I knew it would link into the poster project I was running this term.'
Art teacher, Weston College

'A really thought-provoking and beneficial session!'
Head of English, Sir John Colfox School
